RECLAIMED BOX BEAMS

HAND HEWN PINE BOX BEAMS · JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA

✦ SOLID RECLAIMED WOOD · BUILT TO ORDER

THE LOOK OF A SOLID ANTIQUE BEAM, AT A FRACTION OF THE WEIGHT.

Every Beechcreek box beam is built from solid reclaimed barn wood — not a veneer over plywood — and made to your exact width, height and length. They wrap existing beams, ducts and headers, or go up as decorative ceiling beams, and once installed they read as solid timber.

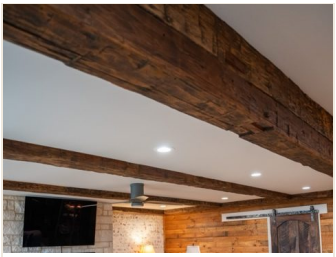
✦ 11 STYLES · EVERY ONE FROM REAL RECLAIMED WOOD

REAL PATINA AND TOOL MARKS — NEVER STAINED ON.

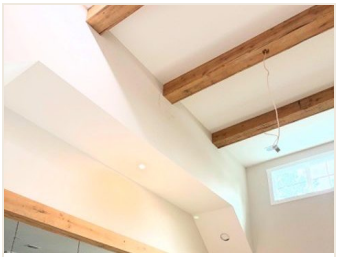
HAND HEWN WHITE OAK
Original 1800s axe work on every visible face.

HAND HEWN PINE
Axe marks cut by hand when the barn went up, softer in tone than oak.



HAND HEWN MIXED HARDWOOD
Oak, ash, elm, hickory and maple from the same barns — more colour range across a run.

HAND HEWN RESAWN WHITE OAK
The same old white oak, hewn here so colour and mark depth match across the room.



RESAWN WHITE OAK
Cut from the inside of antique hand hewn timbers, so the original tight grain shows.

ROUGH CUT HEMLOCK
Sawn rough and left that way, with decades of barn history on the face.

CIRCULAR SAWN OAK
Arc marks cut by an old-style circular blade a century ago — cleaner than hand hewn, still unmistakably reclaimed.

CIRCULAR SAWN PINE
Sweeping blade arcs in softwood, a step cleaner than hand hewn.

THRESHER OAK
Wear earned doing a job no new board can imitate.

WEATHER GREY PINE
The outside face of the barn, and a grey no stain can copy.

CHOCOLATE BROWN HEMLOCK
The colour came from decades inside a barn, not from a can.
